

The Difficult Patient Encounter Lab

Osteopathic Doctoring 3

Pat Bolinger

Student sees:

Pat Bolinger is a 58 y/o female who has an appointment for a biopsy of a mole on her back. Your medical assistant tells you the patient is very pissed off today and was actually pretty mean to them while they were taking their vital signs. You need to proceed with the visit.

Stevie Darrah

Student Sees

Stevie Darrah is a 45 y/o patient in for a refill on their blood pressure medication. Patient has been stable on the medication and compliant with the regimen for about 3 years.

Helen Parker

Student Sees:

Helen Parker is a 62 y/o female who is in to see you because she is having increased pain in both knees and they are out of medication. She has only been your patient for a few months. You were at a CME conference and your partner refused the refill when the pharmacy faxed it over two days ago because it was two weeks early. You and your partner have an office policy to not refill opioid prescriptions early.

Sam Davis

Student Sees:

Sam Davis is a 60 y/o patient who has been your patient for 10 years. They are in today for a recheck on diabetes and hypertension. Your medical assistant tells you that the pharmacy called yesterday and two prescriptions from last month, metformin and amlodipine, were never picked up.
